

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An electronic camera enabling printing of a higher-quality composite image, in which a digital still camera modifies imaging conditions so as to match a frame
5 image selected by a user before imaging, thereby achieving a higher-quality composite image.